Integrating standardization in Horizon Europe projects

How to include standardization in projects

Screen existing standards

Standards are state of the art for industrial and societal practices

Join an existing standardisation community

You can join the Technical Committee works by participating as an expert through your NSB. You can ask for a Project Liaison, your project will be then represented and can fully contribute but without voting rights.

Revise an existing European Standard or develop a new one

Review ongoing standardization works relevant for your activity and to integrate some of your results in them. Works can be for new standards or for the modification of existing ones.

Fast track to new standardisation

If you plan to develop new standards a CEN Workshop Agreement (CWA) is a fast-track to new standardization

Standardization partner in the consortium

- ► A National Standardization Body can participate as partner a consortium to develop standardization activities within the project
- Involving an NSB as partner can demonstrate the project capacity to contribute to standardization

► So far CEN and CENELEC Members have participated in 63 FP7

projects and in 130 H2020 projects

Project-TC Liaisons

- Formal mechanism that allows a research project collaborate with an excising Technical Committee (TC) active in the same field
- Complementary to "national delegation principle"
- The project representative can participate in the TC directly, thus ensuring synergies between the research and standardization work

Fast track to standardization

- CEN/CENELEC Workshop Agreement (CWA) is a standardization deliverable developed in a CEN/CENELEC Workshop open to the direct participation of anyone.
- CWA reflects consensus of identified stakeholders the Workshop participants who drafted and approved CWA are indicated in the Foreword
- Participation in the Workshop is open to anyone willing to join and accepting the project plan
