11:15 - 13:15	Session 3 – How to participate in standardization? MAGELLAN 1 The CEN and CENELEC model is based on the national delegations principle: the national Members of CEN and CENELEC provide a network of hundreds of thousands experts that bring their knowledge in the standards' development, also at international level. This network represents all interested parties, which makes the system inclusive and promotes a wide acceptance of the standards. The national standardization organisations (NSOs) constitute the first entry point to European standardization. This session aims to explain how NSOs are organised to ensure participation of relevant national experts. It will reveal how they facilitate the access to standardization and what are the main challenges they face in their daily work to provide the national positions at European and international level. Speakers from representatives of NSOs in the Technical Boards of CEN and CENELEC <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Nadine PETERMANN - Team Manager International - External Relations and Support – DKE (German member of CENELEC) ▪ Barbara MULLIS – SNV (Suisse member of CEN) TBC
